INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY	OBJECTIVES	PORTFOLIO CONSTRUCTION	INVESTMENT RISKS
To prudently invest in outstanding infrastructure and utilities companies at attractive prices that exhibit highly predictable cashflows.	To achieve attractive risk-adjusted returns over the medium to long term; while reducing the risk of permanent capital loss.	Relatively concentrated portfolio of typically 20 to 40 investments. Typical cash and cash equivalents exposure between 0 - 20%.	All investments carry risk. While it is not possible to identify every risk relevant to an investment in the fund, we have provided details of risks in the Product Disclosure Statement. You can view the PDS for the fund on Magellan's website www.magellangroup.com.au .

MONTHLY SUMMARY

The portfolio recorded a slight positive return for August, as markets continued to value the defensive nature of infrastructure businesses.

The key contributors for the month were Aena, WEC Energy and Dominion Energy. Aena, an important holding, partially recovered from declines experienced during July where concerns about travel weakness and political concerns in Catalonia affected sentiment. WEC Energy, a Wisconsin-based utility business, performed strongly, with results and guidance demonstrating ongoing growth and support from industrial drivers such as data centre demand to support AI developments. Similarly, Dominion Energy, a diversified US utility, delivered strong performance after the release of its 2Q result.

The key detractors were Atlas Arteria, CSX and United Utilities. Atlas Arteria, owner of motorways in France and the US, was down during the month on limited news and prior to both its results release and announcement of new CEO Hugh Wehby, news we considered to be positive for the outlook of the business. CSX, a US freight rail business, was down modestly as investors continued to handicap the risk of a weaker economic outlook. Finally, United Utilities was down modestly as investors continued to assess the outcomes of the ongoing regulatory review.
